AERONAUTS TELL OF SEA VENTURE

Wellman Airship Party in New York After Perilous Ocean Flight.

WILLING TO RENEW ATTEMPT

Thrilling Rescue From Air Craft Provoked Difficult Feature—'Equilibrator' Caused Failure—Story Related.

New York, Oct. 19.—Walter Wellman and his five companions were landed here this afternoon by the steamship Trent, which picked them up at sea after they had abandoned their dirigible balloon America, and failed in the first attempt ever made to cross the Atlantic through the air. A bruised right hand which Wellman carried in a sling was the only physical injury that resulted from their long voyage of approximately 900 miles, and a rescue the like of which is unknown to all history.

None of the aeronauts expressed regret for the loss of the America. They agreed that it had served its purpose and taught its lesson. All stand ready to renew the attempt as soon as Wellman and his engineers find a way to conquer the difficulties that brought their first trip to its thrilling end last Tuesday morning, 400 miles southeast of Sandy Hook.

Standing on the deck of the Trent Wellman made this statement: "We thought we could get along without the equilibrator. Now we find we could not get along with it. Our plans for the future are in definite until we find something that will do what we thought the equilibrator would do."

The "equilibrator," to which Wellman attributes the failure of his voyage, was the series of tanks containing gasoline which floated in the water attached to the airship by a long rope.

The direct cause for abandoning the America was the exhaustion of the supply of gasoline which had to be thrown out to save the ship until the crew abandoned the balloon only enough was left to last about 24 hours.

The other members of the America's crew said they felt as well as ever, and they looked it. They are Melvin Vaniman, the engineer; J. Murray Simons, the navigator; J. K. Irwin, the wireless operator, and Albert L. Loud and John Aubert, the air sailors.

There was also the gray kitten which was so hampered by the women passengers aboard the steamer that her sides bulged with fear. She had made the air voyage as a nameless cat, but on board the liner was promptly christened "Trent."

A thick, gray curtain of fog hung over New York bay this morning and caused a postponement of the last scene of the drama in which Wellman and his crew were the chief figures. The Trent was forced to anchor off Sandy Hook, and the aeronauts remained until early in the afternoon before the fog lifted enough to make it safe for her to come up the harbor. Meanwhile a party of those nearest and dearest to the shipwrecked aeronauts had taken a tug and gone as far as the quarantine station to meet them.

In this party were Mrs. Wellman, Mrs. Vaniman, Mrs. LeRoy Chamberlain, Wellman's married daughter, and his three unmarried daughters, and Mrs. Sarah Loud, mother of Mrs. Vaniman, and of Albert L. Loud.

It was not until 4:15 that Wellman descended the companionway from the steamer to the deck of the tug. With tears in her eyes Mrs. Wellman embraced her husband and kissed him on both cheeks. The aged Mrs. Loud stood, weeping, with one arm around the neck of her son and the other about his wife. Mrs. Vaniman, also in tears of joy, hung on her husband's arm.

The Trent was anchored off quarantine awaiting the inspection of the health and the revenue officers when the tug Daiselline with the aeronauts' relatives, and the Bowker came alongside.

It was the Morse lamp, winking its message through the darkness that first preceded the dawn of Tuesday morning, and not the wireless, that first attracted the attention of those aboard the Royal Mail steamer Trent to the distressed airship. Stanley Angel, an ordinary seaman about 19 years, and George Sangster, an able seaman, had the early morning watch. Angel saw ahead of him, high up in the northeast a faint light. "At first," said the boy, in narrating his experience tonight, "I thought it was the morning star. Then I saw two faint red lights beside the white one and next made a dark blur against the sky. The white light kept a-winking, and then I knew that it was a signal and reported it to G. J. Fitzgerald, the fourth officer, in charge of the watch."

Fitzgerald notified W. H. Lanson, the chief officers. By this time the outline of the airship had been made out against the moonlit sky and Lanson called Captain Down out of his berth. "H-E-L-P. H-E-L-P." was the message the white light on the Amer-

"HOME-COMERS" AT STATE FAIR

C., Oct. 19.—For three hours tonight there was a flow of wit and humor and eulogies to North Carolinians, by "home-comers," and these who are abiding in the Old North State, the exercises being in connection with the "home-coming" feature of the North Carolina State Fair. The meeting was in the Senate Chamber of the State House.

Alderman, of the University of Virginia, former North Carolinian, who expressed regret at not being here and declared that no part of the world is growing faster in all that makes for the highest elements of citizenship than North Carolina.

President J. L. Currie, of the State Fair, spoke with pride of the fair, former North Carolinians are taking in the affairs of all the large cities of the country, mentioning particularly the claim that of eleven flourishing banks in Norfolk, the presidents of nine of them are former North Carolinians. Mayor Wynne, Dr. H. A. Royce, president of the Chamber of Commerce, J. B. Pearce, president of the Merchants' Association, Mr. J. A. Long, of Roxboro, and Dr. Chas. Lee Smith, of Raleigh, who spoke in welcoming the "home-comers."

President Currie, of the State Fair, announced that he has assurance of clearing weather for the next three days and that in that event the fair will run risk, on full swing through the week.

Following the welcoming exercises, the "home-comers" and visitors were given a smoker at the Capitol Club informal but feasting with hospitality.

PATHFINDERS ARRIVE.

Second Car to Reach Charlotte.—The Distance is 218.2 miles.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 20.—The M. F. 30, the official pathfinder car, in charge of Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr., arrived in Charlotte at 12:40 o'clock today, after a journey of 218.2 miles. The car, which was delayed in Monroe for three hours and fifty minutes in an effort to locate the other members of the party, who, in leaving Union's capital, took a road other than that which had been selected as the route for the trip. Accompanying Mr. MacMillan were Messrs. Edgar L. Hinton, J. C. McCaslin, Louis Skinner, C. R. Humphreys.

The party left Rockingham this morning and was escorted to the Pee Dee river ferry by a committee from Rockingham, headed by Col. H. C. Dockery, president of the Charlotte-Wilmington Highway Association. No committee escorted the party through either Union or Union county, but at Monroe, Mr. C. L. McManaway, of Charlotte, met the party and escorted the official pathfinder to Charlotte tonight.

The Chalmers Detroit machine, Frank Herbst driver, reached Charlotte at 10 P. M. Passengers J. H. Hinton, owner; Edgar L. Hinton, J. C. McCaslin, Louis Skinner, C. R. Humphreys.

The party left Rockingham at 8:35 o'clock this morning and lost an hour in crossing the Pee Dee river ferry. Passed Wadesboro at 12 o'clock. There was a heavy rain all day, the roads were slippery and hilly. The Chalmers Detroit left the official pathfinder at Wadesboro and at Monroe took the wrong road. The official car, arriving at Monroe, spent nearly four hours in trying to locate the other cars, finally ascertaining that they had taken the wrong road. The Chalmers Detroit then proceeded on its trip, to Charlotte over the official route.

STORY OF BRIBERY CAUSE SENSATION

Asserts Prominent Men Subscribed $500,000 Corruption Fund.

TO FIGHT ANTI-RACING BILLS

Assistant District Attorney Elder Was Chief Witness—Names of Those Alleged to Have Shared in Graft—Details.

New York, Oct. 19.—Representative Otto C. Foelker, the man who was carried from his sick bed into the State Senate chamber to cast the deciding vote for the anti-racing bill, urged by Governor Hughes, took the stand as a sworn witness today and told the Merritt joint legislative committee the details of an alleged attempt in 1908 by former State Senator Frank J. Gardner, who is now under arrest, to buy his vote. Gardner was called to the stand but refused to testify.

Robert Elder, first assistant district attorney of Kings county (Brooklyn), repeated a conversation which he says he had with Gardner in March last, and which previously had been referred to as a "confession."

Mr. Elder did not vouch as of his own knowledge for the truth of what he repeated, but he gave it for what it might be worth as testimony that in 1908, Gardner was in New York, and names of men in high social, business and political life, coupled with the distribution of bigger sums of money, than anything yet heard in either the Aldis hearing or any of the previous sessions of the present committee of inquiry.

The narrative created a sensation. Briefly, it told of a dinner at Delmonico's of prominent men friendly to the race tracks, of $500,000 subscribed to a corruption fund, of the distribution of this fund to politicians and well-known political correspondents at Albany, of the New York newspapers and of the secret agreement of the late Senator Patrick McCarron that worked for the passage of the bill against his own wishes and his own associates.

"In the month of March," testified Mr. Elder, "I sent for Gardner through his lawyer, who wanted to know what I told him for personal chat and shortly afterward Gardner came to my private office. I told him I wanted to know about the efforts made at Albany to defeat the race track bill. He told me that I had indictments against certain men and that his information might help."

"Finally Gardner said, 'I don't mind telling you that there was a meeting at Delmonico's at which money was subscribed.' He mentioned the names of several men who were there, including members of the Metropolitan Turf Association and the bookmakers. He said that among the men there I remember—were James R. Keene, David Mitchell, Mr. Parsons, Harry Payne Whitney and Charles H. Hyde."

Charles H. Hyde is now chamberlain of New York City and was formerly a law partner of Mayor Gaynor. James R. Keene is the well known racing man and millionaire stock market operator. Mr. Parsons was not further identified.

"He (Gardner) continued Mr. Elder, 'said there was a dispute about who should handle the money. Finally, he said, $125,000 was given to James Gaffney to take care of three or four members of the Legislature. I recall the names of the men, but I do not recall the names of the men who were there, including members of the Metropolitan Turf Association and the bookmakers. He said that among the men there I remember—were James R. Keene, David Mitchell, Mr. Parsons, Harry Payne Whitney and Charles H. Hyde."

"I asked him the total amount of this fund," the witness resumed, "and he said, 'Oh, considerable.' I told him that I had heard $500,000. He would have been nearer the mark. Of this sum he said Senator Grady got only $4,000, and I might imagine what the others got."

"Senator McCarron, he said, was angry because he did not have the handling of the fund and because a strange man was going up there expecting to get away with such a proposition. He attributed the passage of the bill to McCarron's displeasure. McCarron was secretly in favor of the bill, he said, and wanted to be re-elected, because he had not been re-elected."

"Then came mention of the press. 'He (Gardner) resumed Mr. Elder, 'said the newspaper men were liberally taken care of out of the fund. Asked for the names of the men Mr. Elder said:

"I recall a man named Joe McEntee of the Sun, who got $3,000, that Patrick Reilhan of the Press, got $3,000, that Louis Seibold, of the World, got $3,000; George Jandrin, of the Brooklyn Citizen, $3,000, and Tirrell, of the Brooklyn Eagle $3,000."

George Tirrell, secretary to Comptroller Prender Garland until January 1, Albany correspondent of the Brooklyn Eagle, took the stand and testified that Gardner had offered him $300 at Albany and how he had declined it. Little light was thrown on the part taken at Albany by Chamberlain

HOLLAND IS FINALLY CHOSEN

Nominated on 502nd Ballot for Congress in Second Virginia District.—Final of Young and Maynard Clash.

Suffolk, Va., Oct. 19.—On the 502nd ballot, E. E. Holland, of Suffolk, was today nominated as the Democratic candidate of the Second Virginia Congressional district. The vote of W. A. Young, who was the victor in the first primary in which Congressman Maynard also was a candidate was thrown to Holland, which brought about a nomination. The vote was then made unanimous.

The convention became necessary after the original primaries were declared void by the Democratic State Committee on account of proven frauds. A second primary was held in which there were four aspirants, who named delegates in accordance with the vote of this primary election. There were 167 delegates, of which Holland had 80 and the combined opposition 87.

Holland maintained his lead through out two days and nights of voting. It was necessary to nominate today in order to get a name of the Democratic candidate upon the official ballot.

The convention went into a great uproar when Senator Holland was nominated. Senator Holland accepted in an eloquent speech.

HURRICANE FEAR HAS NOW PASSED

Spent Its Fury and Passed to Sea Between Charleston and Savannah.

DAMAGE MAY BE EXAGGERATED

Absence From News of Vessels at Sea Most Serious Phase—Communication With Tampa Resumed—Expect High Winds.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 19.—An almost dead calm this afternoon and tonight marked the passage of the tropical hurricane to sea and bringing relief to the people of this city and vicinity. Reports tonight from the local weather bureau indicate that the storm has passed to sea between here and Charleston and that nothing more serious than high winds may be expected during the night or tomorrow.

Late reports from the ocean resorts along the coast are to the effect that no loss of life has resulted from the hurricane. Property damage also will be less than first reported, but no estimate can as yet be made, owing to the lack of communication with points along the coast.

Throughout the storm territory to day high winds prevailed, but the rain had ceased and business, which had been at a standstill for nearly two days, was generally resumed. The most serious phase of the situation was the absence of definite news of several vessels at sea, including the tug Alexander Jones with a crew of nine men, missing off the Florida coast. The revenue cutter Yamacraw from Savannah, had been ordered to search for the missing vessel.

News from Brunswick, St. Simons and Tybee tonight indicates that the storm was the worst in many years, but no loss of life resulted. Huge waves swept over the seawalls in spots places flooding streets and the street floors of houses and stores in the lower sections of the towns, but it is stated that a conservative estimate will place the loss at these points at less than $200,000.

The only points in Florida to be reached by telegraph tonight were Jacksonville and St. Augustine, but the government wireless station at Tampa was again working order late today. News from these points was to the effect that the gale had reached a velocity of more than 60 miles an hour across the entire Florida peninsula.

Wireless messages from Tampa, the first definite news since that city was isolated from the world early yesterday morning, stated that the property loss was comparatively slight and that no lives were lost in the storm. At Jacksonville the storm damage consisted of the sinking of several barges and small craft and minor property.

There is no communication yet with the interior of Florida and along the eastern coast south of St. Augustine. It is said that it may be several days before the telegraph lines can be restored in these sections.

Early Story From Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 19.—The indications tonight at 6 o'clock are that the hurricane has passed to sea. It has been almost dead calm all afternoon, due, according to the weather bureau, to the fact that the immediate vicinity was in the center of the cyclone.

The storm has been so erratic, however, that the shipping interests are playing safe and staying in port until positive information has been received.

The sea across the Tybee bar is running so high that vessels have not ventured to cross today and tugs which put out from Savannah in search of vessels in distress were forced to turn back.

The City of Memphis, Boston to Savannah, has been anchored 30 miles off Tybee since last night. Near the Memphis there is an unknown fire-rigged schooner, which has been in distress all day. The Memphis was unable to give assistance. The tug McCauley will go to the rescue tonight if possible.

A dispatch from Brunswick states while no lives were lost, there was great damage along the water front. The tide at Brunswick was higher than that it has been in decades. The water covered the docks and backed up into the river front streets, several stores on New Castle street being flooded.

Fifty feet of the government seawall, which protects the parade ground at Fort Screven, was washed away by the highest tide in many years. The railroad tracks are under water.

Reports indicate considerable damage to the sea island cotton. It is probable that practically all of the late sea island cotton has either been ruined or seriously damaged.

Storm Passes to Sea.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 19.—At 9:40 P. M. the local weather bureau reported that the storm had shifted to the northwest and that the barometer was rising. This is taken as a certain indication that the storm center has passed out to sea between here and Savannah.

First Message From Tampa.

Charleston, Oct. 19.—The local United Wireless station reports picking up a message at 6:30 P. M. from Tampa.

THIRD OF SERIES IN CHICAGO

Fears That Rain Would Prevent Game Partly Allayed Last Night—Cubs and Athletics Both Confident of Winning.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Fears that a rain storm forecast by the United States Weather Bureau would prevent the first Western game between the Philadelphia American League Baseball team and the Chicago National League team tomorrow, were partly allayed tonight. The weather bureau revised its estimate made during the day and tonight asserted if any rain falls it would be in the morning, and probably would not be sufficient to interfere with the game.

In spite of this, no hopes are held for a continuation of the warm weather of the first two games. A decided drop in temperature that may mean discomfort and overcoats for the spectators is assured.

With the return of the twice defeated Chicago Nationals and the arrival of the victorious American League team today supporters of the Western team took on new hope. The teams reached Chicago from Philadelphia in the afternoon.

Cheers from the crowd gathered at nearly every station indicated a wide spread interest in the baseball players.

While the welcome in Chicago was not extended by a crowd which might have greeted

INTEREST GROWS AS DAYS GO BY

Time Growing Short and Contestants Taking Advantage of Each Moment.

SOMETHING OF THE FINALS

Judges Selected by Contestants Themselves to be Final Arbiters—No Possibility of Any Unfairness—How Decided.

Interest in the Star's great contest is now at fever heat. This fact was manifested yesterday by the steady stream of ballots that flooded the contest department since early morn. Inquiries made both in person and by letter in regard to the second and last special offer in connection with this contest has kept the contest department busy, this offer as has been heretofore announced consists of giving 15,000 extra votes for each club of $18.00 in subscriptions turned in between now and one week from next Saturday night. Regular votes will be issued on every subscription the schedule being 1,500 for every six months subscription, 7,500 for a two year subscription and 15,000 for a three year subscription.

There have been numerous inquiries as to whether it would be too late to enter the contest at this time. In regard to that, the nomination will not close until the nomination blank is withdrawn from the contest columns which will be after the special offer is over one week from next Saturday.

Time Growing Short.
The time in the Star contest is growing short and every little moment should be taken advantage of by each and every contestant interested. Besides this the contest manager would like to have the nomination blank in the race notify him as soon as possible whom they will have to represent them on the last night of the contest. To those who are not familiar with the way, the contest manager desires to fully explain the methods of the final close.

Judges to Count Final Ballots.
On the last night of the contest, in order to satisfy even the most skeptical as to the absolute fairness of the contest, each contestant will be entitled to have a representative present at the final counting of the ballots which will be made in public. These representatives will select from among their number two judges, two ballot clerks, and one executive judge. These officials will do the final counting of the ballots. In other words a contestant will invite his or her father, brother or friend to represent them. These gentlemen will be on hand at the last night of this contest, and will have a little election among themselves, thereby putting the complete ceremony of the closing of the contest into the hands of the chosen representatives of the girls.

All Representatives Witness.
After the five judges have been elected, the other representatives will retire to seats in the audience near the stage, where they can see everything that is going on, and in case of an argument of any sort they shall decide the same. There is only one chance in 10,000 that there will be a tie. In case of a tie on the first two prizes the girls in question will decide how they will divide the prizes that are tied. If there should be a tie on the second prize that could be easily divided, but still the contest manager in all his years of experience has never seen a contest close where one contestant was within 20,000 votes of the other except with the district prizes.

Contest Department Out of Counting.
The contest department has counted each and every ballot ever since the inauguration of the contest and will continue to count the ballots up to the night before the close.

Lock to Be Sealed.
After that time the lock on the ballot box will be sealed and all reserve votes cast or issued after the final count of the contest department will be turned over to the executive judges, and they will make the last count which will declare the winners.

Object of Sealing.
The object of sealing the lock on this box is to satisfy those who are holding out reserve votes that the contest department will not keep a record of what they already turned in. On the contest some one might charge that the contest manager gave away such information, and that some one knowing just how many subscriptions and votes would be needed to win, had bought up the contest.

NEW EPISCOPAL BISHOPS.

Selected Yesterday But Names Are Withheld—Other Features.
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 19.—The House of Bishops of the Triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church today selected five new bishops and one missionary bishop, but announced that the names of those selected would not be made public until the report is sent to the House of Deputies tomorrow for ratification.

The new bishops will have charge of the dioceses of Wyo., China, Eastern Oklahoma, Northern Texas, San Joaquin, California and Arizona. A world conference to discuss differences and agreements in the various beliefs of all Christian churches is the object of a commission provided in a session resolution passed by the House of Deputies. The commission is to consist of seven bishops and seven deputies, and will have power to call the conference and invite other Christian bodies to take part. Resolutions were also adopted placing Episcopal chaplains of the army and navy under jurisdiction of the bishop of Washington.

After a long debate, the deputies rejected the amended Collect for Good Friday, passed by the bishops last week. The amendment would substitute the words "those outside true faith" for "Jews, Turks, Infidels and Heretics." The matter will come before the New York convention in 1913, on the report of a committee appointed to revise the Collect.

ATLANTA'S HORSE SHOW.

Eclipses Anything of Kind Ever Attempted in the South.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 18.—Eclipsing anything ever before attempted in the South, in point of numbers and quality of its entries, Atlanta horse show of 1910 was opened at the Auditorium Armory tonight. The attendance was far in excess of the opening night of preceding shows in this city. With some of the best horses in the country entered Class 17 for saddle and harness horses (five gait) was the stellar attraction of the evening. The drill of the 11th United States Cavalry of Fort Oglethorpe also was featured on the programme.

Base Ball

Highlanders Win Sixth.

New York, Oct. 19.—The Highlanders fell upon the Giants' pitchers, Ames and Wiltse, and hammered their curves all over the ball yard today and won the sixth post season game by a score of 10 to 2. Four doubles, two singles, two bases on balls and an error by Doyle sent the eight run over the plate for the Highlanders in the second inning.

The Giants took to Vaughan's curves kindly in the third inning, driving home two runs. Quinn was called to the pitching mound and stopped further scoring with his spit ball delivery. The games now stand:

Giants, 3 won; Highlanders, 2 won, and one game tied.

The score:

Giants 002 000 000—2 10 2

Highlanders 080 011 003—10 14 1

Ames, Wiltse and Myers and Wilson; Vaughan, Quinn and Craig.

Time 2:10. Umpires Evans and Klem.

The receipts of the sixth game for the championship of Manhattan between the Giants and the Highlanders of American League Park today, were $6,044.50, of which sum the National Commission will receive $604.45 and the club owners $5,440.05. The number of paid admissions totaled 7,462. Tomorrow the clubs will play at the Polo grounds.

ON THE GRIDIRON.

Harvard Defeats All-Stars.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 19.—The Harvard Varsity eleven this afternoon won a game with Harvard, Yale and Princeton players, styling themselves All-Stars and won by the narrow margin of 6 to 0.

The members of the All-Star team are now Harvard law school students, and aside from their fumbling they put up so strong a game that the Crimson men were unable to get across the goal, the only points being made on two goals from the field by Lewis.

Williams, of Durham, to urge upon the next Legislature that the appropriation for the Soldiers' Home be increased and that provision be made for taking care of Confederate Veterans and their wives at the home as well as old soldiers alone. Major Graham, as president of the Association, presided over the meeting which was slimly attended owing to the heavy rains.

Craddock Shoes

Make Short Miles

It's uphill work getting satisfaction out of some shoes. They may look real nice and prove to be all looks. They may wear well only to look like sixty very shortly, and more than often they are built of such tough, stiff leather that they punish the feet excruciatingly.

The CRADDOCK SHOE

$3.50 All Leathers $4.00 is a good shoe for any man, for any purpose. It is built of the right stuff in the right way. It costs little enough at the start and that little proves a good investment in long wear, snappy style and just the kind of comfort your feet are entitled to. You'll go farther and fare worse, many many times, before you'll find the equal of the Craddock Shoes even at $5.00 and $6.00.

There's a Craddock Shoe dealer in your town.

End of Sensational Trial—Victim's Wife Placed on Trial.

Swainsboro, Ga., October 19.—One of the most sensational trials in the history of Georgia ended today with the conviction of Dr. W. J. McNaughton, a prominent physician, of the murder of Fred Flander. McNaughton was sentenced to hang November 23rd.

Mrs. Flanders, who was jointly indicted with the physician, will be tried probably tomorrow.

Swainsboro, Ga., Oct. 19.—After being out all night the jury in the case of Dr. W. J. McNaughton charged with poisoning Fred Flander, with murderous intent last June, returned a verdict of guilty early today.

Judge Gilbert sentenced McNaughton to hang December 9. A motion for a new trial was filed. The motion will be heard in Columbus, November 23rd. Judge Gilbert signed an order staying the execution.

The trial of Mrs. Flanders, indicted jointly with McNaughton, was contingent upon the conviction of Dr. McNaughton, as her part in the crime is alleged to have been that of an accessory. Her trial has not been assigned.

TAFT LEAVES NEW YORK.

President Expected at the White House Today.

New York, Oct. 19.—President Taft brought his New York visit to a close tonight and is due back at the White House in Washington early tomorrow morning. His last day in this city was given over to political conferences, the situations in New York State and Ohio sharing almost equally in the interest displayed by the President as to present day conditions and election day prospects.

To Lloyd C. Griscom, of the New York county republican committee, President Taft expressed "new" hope that Henry L. Stimson, the Republican nominee for Governor in this State would be successful. Mr. Taft declared he was sure Mr. Stimson would be elected if the people could be made to release the opportunity to secure such an excellent governor as Mr. Stimson's candidacy offered.

Mr. Griscom told the President that republican prospects in New York are brightening daily. Mr. Taft said he hoped this optimistic view of the situation was the correct one. Some of the leaders who have seen the President today by former Governor Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, and Jacob G. Schmick, of Cincinnati, were not enthusiastic.

To many close observers, probably the most significant feature of the President's stay here is the fact that during the past two days Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has been at Oyster Bay—only thirty miles from New York, and so far as known no communication whatever, passed between the President and the former Governor.

I wish I were able to go from the East to the Tennessee line and tell this message to all the people. I have not long to live. I have children and grandchildren; but I say to you that no stroke of this right hand shall aid in putting the Republican party over these children and grandchildren. I say it because I have tried it in the past and, having tried it in the past and having found nothing but ruin and disgrace, I cannot help but fight it now.—C. B. Watson.

The Toledo Blade is astonished at the statistics showing that there are 80,000 people in jails in the United States. We are not astonished at that at all. The wonderful part of it is us is how about a million people manage to keep out of jail.

Says the Charlotte Observer: "Edison, the wizard of invention, has come to the conclusion that man is a mere collection of individual cells and that personality is a non-existent figment of the imagination." Probably that is the reason why a fellow now and then gets into such a predicament that he hardly knows himself. It is a lucky man who at all times knows "where he is at."

King Manuel, of Portugal, wants it understood that he "didn't abdicate." Of course, Manuel, Wilmington people know you didn't do anything like that, for you didn't even stop to think about abdication. It is contrary to reason for a fellow to abdicate while he is skedaddling to a place of safety. It is understood in Wilmington that Manuel got wind of what was up and didn't even linger sullenly along the road to where he was going.

A Republican, writing to the Greensboro News (Rep.) compliments a Republican speech made at Cherryville, Lincoln county, by the Hon. Walter R. Henry, of Charlotte, who is out making a spiel in behalf of McNinch for Congress. Time was when Spieler Henry was campaigning for the Democracy and was one of the hottest numbers on the stump. We mention this to recall the fact that a fellow who is in the trenches with us today may be in the camp of the enemy tomorrow. It is owing to who the fellow is.

New Jersey Republicans belittled the idea of a scholar in politics when Dr. Woodrow Wilson, president of Princeton University, became the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor. However, the scholar not only learnedly but clearly discusses the political issues of the day but his practical campaign speeches are making Republicanism take to cover.
There was nothing erudite in Dr. Wilson's home-thrust about the outrageous tariff duty on "socks," but the squirming of the protectionists makes it quite evident that the scholar knows how to sock it to 'em.

The Raleigh News and Observer of last Sunday issued a remarkable edition—remarkable not only for the immense amount of matter it contained, but for its splendid features. It was the State Fair edition of that splendid North Carolina paper and it was in keeping with the usual enterprise and customary ability that identifies the management of the News and Observer. Our esteemed Raleigh contemporary is so excellent at all times and issues so many "big editions" that we were about to overlook the manner in which it spread itself last Sunday. The achievements of the News and Observer indicate a high type of ability, but not only conspicuous ability but extraordinary enterprise has ever marked the course of that superior North Carolina newspaper.

CHARLOTTE GOING AHEAD.

At a meeting of the Charlotte Board of Aldermen on Monday night a charter was granted to the Charlotte Power Company, which proposes to erect and operate gas and electric light works. This means competition for the "Four C's Company" which operates the existing street railway in Charlotte, and has been without a competitor in gas and electric lighting in that city. It has not been but a few weeks since the Charlotte aldermen also granted a franchise to a new street railway company; so the Queen City is to have competition in the supply of gas and electric light, while its street car service doubtless will be greatly extended.

It has been suggested that the outcome of competition in these public utilities will be an ultimate consolidation of all the interests, but water-er the outcome is, Charlotte will have an electric railway service embracing many more miles of track, while there will be a greater development of the lighting facilities for North Carolina's metropolis. We do not think there will be any reason to fear detriment to the present railway and lighting interests in Charlotte because a new company is to occupy the field, for Charlotte is growing rapidly and gives promise of furnishing all the patronage the two companies can take care of in a satisfactory manner.

Charlotte already is one of the South's most important cities and its eligible situation destined it to be a great manufacturing and commercial center. That city is now the centre of the cotton milling industry in the South, and as it is in the centre of the Piedmont's great hydro-electric developments we have all along anticipated that Charlotte will be the South's leading manufacturing city.
The logic of situation and conditions is all on Charlotte's side.

WALTER WELLMAN'S STUNT.

We rejoice that our old friend Walter Wellman and his five companions, and the kitten, have been saved from the remorseless waves of the Atlantic.
We are particularly glad that Walter came to this great luck off the North Carolina coast, although he was too near terrible old Hatteras with his big balloon America to warrant us in saying that North Carolina had hospitable shores upon which he could land.
According to the Associated Press dispatches, he was rescued at sea off the North Carolina coast, 250 miles north of the Bermuda Islands, which many people will be surprised to know were originally a portion of Carolina—in the early Colonial days.

Wellman's dash for Europe turned out pretty much as we expected, although his adventure and rescue were more romantic and hazardous than we had expected. We had expected that the adventurous Wellman would make a start but land only far enough out for some fishermen to pick him up.
However, we must admit that in sailing away into the unknown in a huge balloon, with the intention of crossing the Atlantic, Wellman has furnished the world with a thrilling incident in aerial navigation. His expedition came to grief, it is true, but Walter probably has broken the record of the longest time in air in a balloon and it is believed that he has broken the world's long distance record of a sail of 850 miles, heretofore made by a professional balloonist.

Finally, in sailing away in the air for a trip to Europe or some unknown portion of the world, and in using the wireless telegraph to keep us posted concerning his progress and eventually in effecting his strange and remarkable rescue in mid-ocean, by means of a boat dropped from his balloon, our old friend Wellman has verified the wildest dreams of the imaginative Jules Verne.

When the next war comes on all the men on both sides who have to bear the brunt of it should get together and go on a strike till the thing is arbitrated.

In the midst of all this excitement over new discoveries in this wonderful age, what has become of the men who have been butting up against perpetual motion?

About the best thing this country could do at this time is to overwhelmingly retire all political radicals and extremists. The problems which we already have to settle are enough to employ all the common sense left in the country without springing new political discoveries that add to the confusion already existing.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, an eminent scientist, declares that "there are more crazy men than there are sane men." We shall wait till after the election before we shall know whether the majority of North Carolinians are sufficiently "off their nut" to give a majority for the Republican party when they know its past record in their State.

In order to heal the breach between a man and wife who quarrel incessantly, a New York judge advised a couple not to speak to one another for 30 days. That judge didn't know that if a man were to keep quiet 30 days it would take him 30 days more to explain what kind of devilment he had been thinking of for the last 30 days.

PRESIDENT TAFT.

There is quite evident a movement on foot to make it appear that President Taft's popularity among Republicans and the people generally is on the increase. Dispatches are being sent out in an attempt to create the impression that, in spite of insurgency, President Taft's popularity is being depended upon by the Republican party to carry it through its troubles.
The Presidency of the United States always carries with it a certain defence and respect on the part of the people of all parties, without reference to the personality of the individual who is President. That respect and deference certainly is felt towards President Taft as it has been exercised toward all our Presidents.

However, the obvious efforts in the midst of a campaign to induce the American people to believe that President Taft is especially popular in a political design too palpable to be overlooked. The plain fact is that insurgency in the Republican party is an indication of the unpopularity of President Taft in his own party. Forsaken, President Taft may be quite likeable, but politically his course at Washington has been a failure, for it cannot be disputed that he is not entitled to a high place in the confidence of either his party or the people of the United States. The mere fact that a tremendous portion of his party is in open rebellion against his administration shows that he is not even popular in his own party, while the united attitude of the Democratic party in condemnation of his administration indicates that, so far as he is officially concerned, his acts at Washington have not challenged the confidence of the people of the United States.

No President has ever been so severely criticized as President Taft.
The plain record of the past two years is that he failed utterly to carry out his campaign pledges for a revision of the tariff, but surrendered to Aldrichism and Cannonism during the first part of his administration. The development of insurgency is an answer to the claim concerning his popularity.
Insurgency means condemnation of Taft and his administration. It means not only criticism from a Republican standpoint, but bold and aggressive opposition on the part of Republicans.
Republican criticism of Taft's administration is even more pronounced than the Democratic opposition.

Not only is there criticism of the Taft administration by many of the leading statesmen of the Republican party, but whole States with a Republican majorities have endorsed those who have been most severe in criticizing him. Republican newspapers and magazines edited under Republican auspices have constantly emphasized the failures of the President, and among them comes criticism from a magazine of the National importance, the Review of Reviews, while believing in President Taft's honesty of purpose, declares he is a "political failure." It calls attention to his weakness in surrendering to Aldrich and Cannon and attributes the unpopularity of his administration to his poor politics rather than to his administrative abilities.

In discussing the Taft administration the Review of Reviews criticised Taft for attempting to dominate politics throughout the country. Editor Shaw, of that magazine, says his attempt to do so has been futile and it contents that the President's relation to Congress during its last session was improper, in that he dictatorially prepared bills and sent them to Congress instead of attending to his executive duties and permitting Congress to take care of the legislation of the country. Says the Review of Reviews:

"The constitutional duties of the President of the United States are quite important enough to engage his undivided attention. It is not the business of the President to write the bills that Congress is expected to enact, nor is it his duty to select a programme for Congress or to assume the parliamentary role of a British Prime Minister. It is not necessary for the President to assert himself as active head of his party, as if he were chairman of the National Committee, nor is it advisable for him to spend much of his time arranging the party situation in various States, using the patronage and influence of the Federal government to strengthen one faction and weaken another."

The preparation of "administration bills," prepared with the sanction of the President and sent into Congress smacks too much of the dictator and at any rate it throws too much responsibility upon the President. If Congress had passed the administration bill known as "the railroad bill," or the anti-trust measure, as it was sent in under the endorsement of President Taft, it would have called forth the indignation of the American people. It is a known fact that Attorney General Wickersham prepared the original bill after calling into conference with him the representatives of railroads and corporations, and the measure which they submitted to Congress as the Taft plan of regulating the corporations and trusts would have ruined any President of the American Republic. As it was, the insurgents and Democrats succeeded in robbing that original bill of its objectionable feature and saved the President's face.

The Review of Reviews blames Taft's failures upon his weakness in surrendering to the bad political influences which surrounded him. It calls particular attention to his humiliating efforts to browbeat the insurgent Senators and Congressmen by taking away their Federal patronage with a view to "whipping them into line." It then speaks of his futile efforts in attempting to buy them back by restoring their patronage, a political maneuver which has entirely failed.

The fact is, President Taft's administration up to date has indicated an idea of one-man power, as demonstrated in his effort to run "administration measures" over Congress. He has attempted to coerce his party by political patronage, but failed, and the worst of all is he brought on insurgency and defeat for himself by failing to carry out his pledge to the people for tariff revision.

Inasmuch as Aldrich, Cannon, Ballinger, Roosevelt, the Insurgents and the Democrats, are making so much trouble for President Taft, no doubt he would rather be right quiet than be President.

The use of stump talk including such political exchanges as "pusillanimous upstart," "graceless grafter," "infamous corruptionist," "unprincipled traitor," "reckless liar," and such like expressions on the part of campaigners, indicates that the argument is about over and the election is soon to take place.

Republican campaign managers, scouting the idea that the Democracy will elect a Congress in November and a President in November 1912, declare that the "Democrats are chasing rainbows." The fact is, the Republican party has followed its ignis fatuus till they are in the swamp up to the neck and can't get out.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Cited and old General Apathy have at last met face to face.—Washington Post.

Of course Butler wants to meet Simmons; he wants to meet any respectable Democrat; he needs the association, hence his expressed desire.
He is safe in extending a challenge, especially since the Senator, only last week, gave out an interview stating that the self-respecting man would meet Butler.—Greensboro Record.

"Roosevelt went down in a submarine boat and 'came back.' He went up in the air with Archie Hoxsey, who dashed around with his aeroplane, skimming a mile a minute. Again, he 'came back,' and people are calling it 'luck.' Nevertheless, Teddy shouldn't ever fool with the unloaded gun or cut up any of his shins along the double track."—Wilmington Star.
He's having a quite similar experience now in New York, however.—Durham Sun.

When the Philadelphia Press weakens in its claims for the Republican party, the fight is as good as won by the Democrats. Doing its level best with the material at hand, it only claims 162 "sure" Republican districts in the next Congress and concedes 172 districts to the Democrats.
It sets down 57 districts as "doubtful," whistling to keep its courage up; but it really thinks in its heart that the Republican jig is up. Now, if the Democrats will only use their victory so as not to abuse it, it would be well for Mr. Taft to get ready to move out in March, 1913.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Is the world growing mad? Dr.
Forbes Winslow, an eminent man, says he can show by a single arithmetical calculation that in a certain number of years there will be more insane persons than sane. He declares the human race has degenerated and is progressing in a downward direction. He finds the modern youth insipid; the manly, broad-shouldered young men are few and far between.
The learned doctor no doubt gets his views from what he sees in the great cities. Let him come to North Carolina and he will see plenty of manly men, both young and old.—Winston-Salem Sentinel.

The people of North Carolina have a right to ask where the Republican campaign managers are getting their money from to carry on the active political campaign they are now engaged in and not being answered they have a perfect right to their own conclusions. Marion Butler's record and Marion Butler's activity in this campaign naturally lead the thinking people to the conclusion that Marion Butler has an interest at stake in the campaign now going on that must be of more than usual importance to him.
He has never been looked upon as a political philanthropist, one who would give time and money for a purpose that did not inure to his own individual benefit and it is but fair to assume that he has not done so in this case unless there was something in it for Marion Butler. What can that interest be? Is Marion Butler a property holder in North Carolina? Is it extent that he would consider it worth his time and money to protect it, if protection were needed? Has Marion Butler manufacturing or agricultural interests in North Carolina that would justify him in devoting his time and his money to preserving, if indeed, they needed preserving? We have not been able to discover them if he has and we have made rather diligent inquiry. When then can Butler's reason for devoting time and money, his own or that contributed by others, to the political campaign now on in the Old North State? Is it not a fair supposition, in view of his past record, as admitted by himself, that his interest in the North Carolina campaign is the interest of that syndicate of bond holders who have for several years been endeavoring to compel the State of North Carolina to take up and pay for bonds that the State does not admit it owes. If a more logical conclusion can be reached as to Marion Butler's interest in the political

BIG RALLY AT BURGAW.

Governor Kitchin There Oct. 27th—Basket Picnic, Etc.

To the Voters of Pender county:
You will find from other notices that have been circulated in the county of Pender by the Democratic Executive Committee that W. W. Kitchin, Governor of North Carolina, will address the Democrats and citizens of Pender on the live political issues of today at Burgaw on Thursday, Oct.
27th, 1910, at 10 o'clock P. M.

Since getting out these dodgers or posters and conferring with different members of the Executive Committee, as well as Democrats and citizens of the county, we are of the opinion that it would be well to have a genuine Democratic Rally on that date, and therefore, we have decided to have a basket picnic dinner and barbecue on the Court House square.

Ladies and gentlemen are requested to come out, hear this speech, bring well-laden baskets and have a day of recreation; a brass band will furnish music for the occasion.
This the 19th day of October, 1910.

CRAIG ENTERS RACE.

Former Candidate for Governor Goes Into Buncombe Court.

(Special to The Charlotte Observer.) Asheville, Oct. 18.—Mr. Locke Craig has brought suit in the Buncombe county superior court against the Hans Rees Sons for the recovery of $1,000, which he alleges is due him on a contract which he had with the company by which he was to aid in securing a repeal of the tariff on raw hides. When the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was under consideration the independent tanneries made a fight for free hides, upon the grounds that the beef trust would ruin them if they could not have the free markets of the world to purchase hides. The independent tanneries got what they wanted and now Mr. Craig alleges that they are due him for work in that connection.

RHEUMATISM PURIFYING THE BLOOD THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE

No case of Rheumatism was ever cured except by a thorough purification of the blood; just as long as the blood remains charged with fermenting uric acid poison, the painful disease will continue. The pains and aches of Rheumatism are simply superfluous effects of the impurities in the circulation, and sometimes may be temporarily relieved by the application of plasters, liniments, hot cloths, etc. But the person who trifles with this dangerous disease by depending on local treatment alone, is certain to pay for the mistake with constant suffering later on. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism in the only way it is possible to cure the disease. It goes down into the blood, and removes the uric acid from the circulation, so that the nerves, bones, muscles and joints are lubricated and fed with nourishing elements instead of being continually irritated and inflamed with the sharp, uratic impurity.
When S. S. S. has cleansed and purified the blood, the pains and aches cease, all inflammation disappears, stiffened muscles are made pliant, and every troublesome symptom of Rheumatism is permanently corrected. Book on

Revenue Cutters Yamacraw and Forward on Lookout For Tug Alexander Jones—Captain Sanders Was Also on Board.

At the request of the Wilmington Towing Company, Secretary of the Treasurer Ross yesterday ordered the revenue cutters Yamacraw, from Savannah, and the Forward, from Key West, to proceed to sea in search of the Wilmington tug Alexander Jones, which was caught in the hurricane off the Florida coast.

Owing to the fact that wire communication has been destroyed with the Southern portion of Florida there is some possibility that the tug has reached a harbor of safety, but on account of the conditions the captain has been unable to telegraph her owners here.

It was learned yesterday that Capt. W. A. Sanders, one of the owners, who was until recently master of the tug Blanche, owned by the same company as the Jones, is also aboard the missing tug. Both Capt. Fred Dasher, who was mentioned yesterday and Capt. Sanders, were in command with a crew of four men, all from Southport and Wilmington.

The hurricane was reported the day after the Jones left Jacksonville bound for Key West and the owners feel certain that she was caught in the first storm on last Saturday. On account of the shallow water in the harbor at Miami, Fla., the Jones was unable to seek harbor there, but would have been safe if she could have reached a port about 60 miles further down the coast.

The Jones was bound for Key West to get a schooner to tow to Baltimore and the owners here made an effort to communicate with the master of the schooner, thinking there was a possibility of getting information by that means, but the telegram could not reach the master of the vessel.

The cutters went to sea probably last night and if the Jones is located the owners will eventually be informed by wireless communication. The following Associated Press telegram was received last night: Washington, Oct. 19.—The tug Alexander Jones, with a crew of nine men aboard is missing off the Florida coast and the revenue cutters Yamacraw, at Savannah, and the Forward, at Key West, have been ordered to sea to search for the missing craft and its imperiled men. The tug left Jacksonville a week ago today for Jacksonville Key and has not since been heard from.

SENATOR SIMMONS TO SPEAK

North Carolina's Senior Representative in U. S. Senate to Address New Hanover Voters Tuesday Night, Nov. 1st.

Announcement was made by Chairman Bellamy last night that Hon. F. M. Simmons, North Carolina's senior representative in the United States Senate, will discuss the issues of the campaign in this city on the night of November 1st, being the night following the joint discussion between Congressman H. L. Godwin and Iredell Meares, Esq., Democratic and Republican candidates, respectively, for Congress in this district.

Senator Simmons has many strong admirers in Wilmington and will doubtless be greeted by a large crowd. The business interests of the city are not unmindful of the valuable services of the senior Senator in behalf of the waterways appropriation for East Carolina in the last session of Congress. Senator Simmons is a member of several important committees and through his untiring efforts has accomplished much for his State and the nation. His work in the Senate is well known to the people of this section. He is deeply interested in the development of the waterway projects of this section and will continue to give his valuable aid to secure appropriations for further work along as he is in the Senate. He has been heard in Wilmington on many occasions and has always been greeted by a large audience. He is a pleasing speaker and is thoroughly informed on all the important questions of the day and his discussions of the issues are always enlightening.

If the weather is favorable the speaking will take place at corner of Third and Market streets, otherwise it will be in the Court House. The joint discussion between Godwin and Meares on the preceding night should only serve to whet the appetite of voters for more and therefore it would seem that the State committee acted wisely in making an engagement for Senator Simmons at this place on the night of November 1st.

ATLANTIS HOTEL COMPANY.

Directors Meet Today to Hear Mr. Hooper and Mr. Jones. There will be held today at the president's office of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company an important meeting of the directors of the new hotel for Wilmington.

Mr. Charles E. Hooper, manager of the Buford Hotel, of Charlotte, is here to confer with the directors and submit a proposition in regard to the management of the hotel. Mr. Hooper has been in the hotel business for the past 25 years and is thoroughly capable of making the hotel popular and a paying proposition, and the service first-class.

Mr. Frank P. Milburn, of the firm of Milburn, Helster & Co., of Washington, D. C., will also appear before the board. Mr. Milburn's firm is one of the largest in the South and with the force that surrounds him he will be able to get out plans, etc., in a very short time. Time is essential as the hotel is to be completed by the coming summer.

Mr. J. A. Jones, one of the best known contractors and builders in North Carolina, is also in the city to land the contract if possible. Mr. Jones erected the Selwyn Hotel and the large office building in Charlotte and has done work in various places in this State and South Carolina.

The first meeting and dinner of the Commercial Club, as previously announced, will be held at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow evening, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock. Mr. J. A. McGee, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, requests all who propose to attend to phone him by noon today. The following official notice in regard to the meeting was issued yesterday:

October 19th, 1910. Dear Sir:—We are pleased to announce that after a vacation made necessary by the Summer season and the absence of so many of our members, the Commercial Club will resume its monthly meetings on Friday evening, October 21st, and will serve supper at 7 o'clock sharp. While no set programme has been arranged for the meeting there are a number of important matters to come before the club, among which are the election of a vice president and the outlining of the work for the coming year.

It is hoped that every one interested in the upbuilding of the city will be present and it is earnestly requested that you notify Secretary McGee, phone No. 19, of your intention of attending not later than Thursday noon, so that preparation may be made for the evening. The usual charge of 75c will be made for each acceptance and, of course, each member may reserve plates for as many guests as he desires to bring, at the same rate.

Hoping to see you present, I am, Yours very truly,

J. A. McGEACHY, Secy.

BIG RALLY WAS POSTPONED

Senator Overman and Attorney General Bickett Did Not Arrive.—The Former Ill and Latter Had Engagement Elsewhere.

Owing to the cancellations at the eleventh hour, the engagements of Senator Lee S. Overman and Attorney General Bickett, advertised to speak in this city last night, the big Democratic rally, announced to be held last night, has been postponed until some future date. Notwithstanding the severe weather the speakers, had they arrived, would have been greeted by a large audience.

Although the fact that there would be no speaking, became known about 7:30 o'clock, to the 10 or 20 persons who had already assembled, they leaving immediately and informed their friends of the cancellation of the engagements, probably 75 people had been to the Court House by 8:15 o'clock, when the lights were extinguished and the doors closed.

This is evidence of the fact that had there been a speaking the Court House would have been well nigh filled, regarding the blow and rain without. It is needless to say that members of the county executive committee and scores of voters were keenly disappointed. The engagement of Messrs. Overman and Bickett had been well advertised and the people generally desired to hear them expound the principles of the Democratic party. It is possible that they will be here later in the campaign, but this is not probable, as soon have other engagements which will take them well up to election day.

Earlier in the day Chairman Marsden Bellamy, of the executive committee, received a telegram from Senator Overman, who was then at Hamlet, to the effect that owing to a severe cold, and the stormy weather, it was necessary for him to cancel his engagement here. Senator Overman spoke at Troy, Montgomery county, Tuesday, and returned last evening to his home in Raleigh. He was found that he would have to abandon his trip to this city. Chairman Bellamy expected Attorney General Bickett to arrive on the 6 o'clock train, from Raleigh, having received no notice to the contrary, until early last evening a telephone message from State Chairman Eller gave the information that Mr. Bickett had been sent to the western part of the State to fill engagements of ex-Governor Chas. B. Aycock, who is indisposed. Mr. Bellamy then endeavored to secure several local speakers, but the time was too short and the idea of holding a meeting last night had to be abandoned. However, it is really not necessary that any Democratic speakers be brought to this county, anyway, because New Hanover will roll up the usual big majority, notwithstanding the vigorous fight being waged by the Republicans and the much-speaking they have had recently, all with the exception of one when the crowd was attracted through curiosity and personal friendship for the speaker, have been scatteringly attended.

The next speaking advertised to take place in this city is the holding of October 31st, when Congressman Godwin and Iredell Meares, Esq., will have a joint discussion. They will speak at Third and Market streets. As told elsewhere in today's paper, on the night following, Senator F. M. Simmons will be the speaker.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY CHARGED.

George Lowe, Colored, Sent Up to Superior Court—Vagrants.

Charged with highway robbery, George Lowe, colored, was given hearing in the Recorder's court yesterday morning and bound over to Superior Court going to jail in default of $500 bond. Lowe was arrested on a warrant charging larceny from the person, but after hearing the evidence the Recorder ordered the warrant amended to charge highway robbery. Fred Underwood, colored, was the prosecuting witness. He testified that on Saturday evening last while walking on the street back of the Marine hospital he was accosted by two negroes, one of whom was Lowe, who held him hard and fast while the other negro went through his pockets and secured $4.50 in money. The other negro has not yet been arrested.

Two white men giving their names as Pat Dugan and John Wells were picked up in a drunken condition on the wharf Tuesday night by police officers and sent to the City Hall, where charges of drunkenness and vagrancy were entered against them. The men are released and arrived in the city a few days ago. The Recorder decided that they might be of some service in furthering the work of constructing county roads, and gave them 30 days each.

Dependable Proprietary Medicines. It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for thirty years and today hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, without possessing great virtue and actual worth. Such medicines must be looked upon and termed both standard and dependable by every thinking person.

TOUCH OF NORTHEAST STORM

High Tides and Rough Weather on Outside, But Thus Far No Shipping Disasters—Pier Partially Wrecked.

The northeast storm and hurricane which has been flitting with the Atlantic coast, south of Wilmington during the past week, varying in intensity and menace to property interests, at the several ports and seaside resorts, was thought last night, according to press dispatches, to have passed out to sea, off the Georgia coast, and if the assumption proves true, Wilmington and the North Carolina coast probably have experienced the worst of it.

At Wrightsville Beach, for which the greatest anxiety was felt on account of the large local property interests at stake there, the only damage seems thus far to be a partial wrecking of the steel pier at the Seashore Hotel, about 150 feet of which has been carried away by the heavy swell from the sea and the unprecedentedly high tides. Some anxiety was felt last night for the remaining 650 feet of the structure, but a telephone message from the beach at 9:30 o'clock last night was to the effect that while the tide reached a maximum during the disturbance about 9:15 o'clock, no further damage had been done to the pier and that the hotels and cottages were intact, as was also the long trestle of the Tidewater Power Company, across the Sound. Cars were operated regularly to the beach yesterday and last night and many of those who for the first time had been to the beach, returned last evening in the face of no reassurance at that hour from the Weather Bureau. At 9:30 o'clock high tide for the night had been reached and no further trouble was expected until this morning at high tide again. Indeed, if the tide was then receding, though the wind was strong from the southeast, the wreckage of the bulk of the pier from the Seashore Hotel pier has washed ashore near the Carolina Yacht Club and a part has been seen nearly opposite Lumina, further down the beach. The greater part of the damage was done by the tide early yesterday morning, though sections of the structure were giving away from the ocean end all during the day. The damage will be not be repaired, unless there was further damage during the night, which is not thought probable.

On the Cape Fear there had been little damage yesterday and unless the storm developed with greater violence than was expected last night, there will probably be none. Under advice from the Weather Bureau, all shipping got into snug harbor before midnight, with the exception of the schooner Robert A. Snyder, Capt. J. Tinker, from Rockland, Me., to Wilmington, with cargo of agricultural lime, which arrived off Cape Fear early yesterday morning, with loss of foremast and mainmast. She was sighted by the Cape Fear Life Saving Crew and the tug Sea King, Capt. D. Williams, and the liner was dispatched to her aid, but she declined assistance and the Sea King returned last night. Pilot Robert Newton was aboard and Capt. Tinker said that would be difficult to heave anchor with the heavy seas that were rolling, claiming to be p. them and taking his chances on the outside for the night. Capt. C. D. Maditt, agent of the owners, went down on the Blanche and met the Sea King upon her return from the schooner. The Sea King will return to the harbor at 5:30 o'clock this morning.

The government lighthouse tender Cypress, from Charleston, S. C., is anchored in the harbor at Southport, having put in Tuesday, after having towed the relief lights up to Frying Pan, with the expectation of towing the regular ship in for repairs. Upon arriving at the station, the sea was so rough that the tender was forced to anchor the relief ship, leaving both on the station and in for harbor. Both boats will mark the shoals until the weather moderates.

The schooner John Rose, Capt. Douglass, which cleared this port last night, for New York, with a cargo of lumber for New York, is still at Southport awaiting favorable weather to proceed.

The United States Revenue Cutter Seminole which cleared Monday morning for Newport News and for which some anxiety was felt, arrived yesterday at Newport News. A telegram from Lieut. Covell, commanding, to Capt. C. D. Maditt, announces the safe arrival of the cutter.

There was a report early last night that a very heavy wind storm had passed over Chadbourne in the interior, but advices last night were that no damage had been done there.

GROWING CHILDREN

play hard and work hard at school, and rapid growth uses up an enormous amount of energy and vitality that needs replacing.

This accounts for the many delicate, sickly and ailing children we see on our streets.

We wish the mother of every such child would come to our store for a bottle of Vinol, as it is a delicious cod liver and iron tonic which children love to take, and it is easily assimilated.

A grateful mother in Darand, Mich., says her little girl was weak, pale, and had no appetite. She gave her Vinol and she began to thrive at once—and she gained rapidly in weight, color and strength. (Name furnished on request.)

Vinol builds up good healthy flesh and muscle tissue and makes thin little limbs round and plump.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that if it does not benefit your child, your money will be refunded. Robert R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

Dandierine

GROWS HAIR and we can PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Dandierine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment, when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions). The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Dandierine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp. It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. One 2-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

FREE To show how quickly Dandierine acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who sends this free coupon to the KNOWLTON DANDIERINE CO., CHICAGO, ILL., with their name and address and five in silver or stamps to pay postage.

BALLOONS STILL RACING.

Six That Left St. Louis Probably in Ontario—Several Descend.
St. Louis, Oct. 19.—Six of the ten balloons which started in the International contest late Monday tonight are believed to be racing over the Southwestern part of Ontario, though no definite news was received from them today.

The Isle de France, Alfred LeBlanc, pilot and Walter de Munn, descended near Pozzomassino, Ont., in a forest at 4 A. M. today. The French aerostat had travelled 725 miles northeast from St. Louis and had remained in the air 24 hours and 36 minutes.

The Isle de France was the fourth balloon to alight, the others being the Condor, the St. Louis No. 4, and the Million Club which landed yesterday at Two Rivers, Wis., Hillman, Mich., and Racine, Wis., respectively.

LeBlanc was not spoken of when he passed north of Chicago yesterday morning until he landed. He finished second in 1907 in the race for the James Gordon Bennett cup.

At Pozzomassino he was within 148 miles of the American record of 873.4 miles. Four other races were reported tonight to be flying over Lake Michigan and Georgian Bay from 600 to 700 miles northeast from St. Louis.

The balloon Harburg II, of Germany, the fourth to depart in the International balloon race from St. Louis descended with terrific force from a height of 1,800 feet at 9 P. M., on Tuesday in Lake Nipissing, Toronto, Canada, 550 miles from St. Louis, according to a message received tonight.

The L. A. arm of William P. Assman, aid of St. Louis, was broken, his right hand slightly sprained and an artery in his wrist cut.

Lieutenant Leopold Vogt, principal of the Harburg and Assman, were forced to swim the lake with the balloon, landing on Seagull island, where Assman, despite his injuries, tied the aerostat to a tree and remained on the island along with Lieutenant Vogt all Tuesday night, bleeding profusely from his wounds. The balloonists were rescued early today by Carokoke Indian hunters and sent to a hospital at Powassan, on the Grand Trunk Railroad, 20 miles from where they landed.

The trip of Lieutenant Vogt and Mr.
Assman in the Harburg, was replete with danger from the time they left Milwaukee early Tuesday morning, crossing Lake Michigan. The story of the trip was related by Lieutenant Vogt when he reached Powassan, Ont., today as graphic and tells the dangers of a balloon flight as seldom described by a balloonist. He said in part:

"It was only after much trouble that the balloon was brought down.
"Finally," added Vogt, "I decided to descend and take our chances. I pulled the valves and we descended with terrific force from a height of 18,000 feet. The descent was something terrific and it was lucky that we fell as best I could, to attempt to land have been dashed to death. We struck the water at 11 P. M.

"In our descent we were caught by the wind and for a moment were in danger of being dashed on the uninhabited Gull Island. Then we struck the water. The impact was so great myself and Mr. Assman momentarily unconscious. As soon as I could collect my wits I grabbed the light drag rope and swam to the island, where Mr. Assman, who I found was seriously injured, tied to a tree.

"For two hours we shouted for aid, but got no response. The loneliness and darkness of the place was appalling. How we endured it I do not know. Our clothes were wet the skin and had nothing with which to light a fire. All the remainder of the night we remained on the island alone, trying as best I could, to attend to the injuries of my aid. His wounds bled awfully all night and I feared for his life before I could get assistance.

"This morning we hailed two Indian hunters in a skiff, who took us to the shore of the lake and guided us through the forest to Powassan, where Mr. Assman received medical attendant."

WILL MARRY GRAHAME-WHITE.

Engagement of Pauline Chase and Aviator Announced Yesterday.
New York, Oct. 18.—Announcement of the engagement of Pauline Chase, the actress, known as the Pink Pajama Girl, to Claude Grahame-White, the English aviator, now in this country, was made tonight by Charles S.
Frohman, Miss Chase's manager. The announcement revealed a romance that had not been even dreamed of and caused much comment.

Miss Chase first met the aviator nine years ago in London. Present plans of the couple are for the actress to continue her engagements in this country and England until Spring when she will retire from the stage to be married.

prevail. Damage to property was very slight. "Practically nothing," tele-

Steamers Arrive Safely.
New Orleans, Oct. 19.—Encountering rough passage and delayed many hours by the hurricane which swept Gulf waters during the past few days four steamers, for the safety of which much concern had been felt, have reached New Orleans. They are the Turralba and Mount Vernon, of the Central Fruit Company, the Mercator, of the Vaccaro Company, and the Marietta DiGiorgio, of the Bluefields Steamship Company. All came from Central American ports.

At St. Augustine, Fla.
St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 19.—Street car traffic was still at a standstill tonight, many of the suburban tracks being washed out, but business generally has about resumed normal conditions.

Terrible Experiences.
Mobile, Ala., Oct. 19.—After successfully weathering some of the worst weather ever experienced in the Gulf of Mexico, the British steamer, Bellavion, 48 hours overdue from Port Limon, Costa Rica, the Harry I. Inge (Nor), Bocas del Toro, and the Norwegian steamer Colombia from LaCoela, arrived at Mobile today with tales of terrible experiences. Captain Randall of the Bella-vion reported a gale of 90 miles an hour and a barometer of 28.75 when the vessel struck the storm last Saturday night off Cape San Antonio, Cuba. The decks were constantly awash and all the crew were more or less seriously injured.
Captain Randall was rendered unconscious by the buffeting of the waves and narrowly escaped being washed overboard. The Colombia struck the hurricane in the Yucatan channel.
Members of the crews report the seas mountain high and a terrific wind continuously.

STORY OF BRIBERY
CAUSE SENSATION

Hyde (Gardner) said Mr. Elder, told me he went to Albany with Hyde because Hyde didn't know the ways of Albany and how to approach people.

"He said Hyde had subscribed at the meeting at Deland, Fla., for Wm.
Engelhardt, who had failed to pay and that Hyde had put in a bill for personal expenses to reimburse himself. He said he had an arrangement with Hyde by which he was to be paid for doing the work at Albany, but that Hyde didn't pay him and that this made it necessary for him to take $10,000 out of the amount he did get elsewhere to make good on two agreements. Five thousand of this money, he said, went to the president of the Senate."

The witness was reminded that the then president of the Senate, Lewis Suydam Chanler, had voted for the bill. "Did you understand that he meant Senator Raines (Republican leader and president pro tem. of the Senate) asked counsel.

"I so understood," said the witness.
The statement of the statement of Assistant District Attorney Elder insofar as it personally refers to him, Mr. Sel-bold made this statement tonight:
"As I understand Mr. Elder's statement, he said that ex-Senator Gardner told him that he had paid money to certain newspaper men of whom I was one, to influence them against the Hughes race track bills in 1908. If Mr. Gardner made any such statement, he lied."

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

Amendment to Constitution Voted Down—As to Negro Bishops.
Cincinnati, O., Oct. 18.—An amendment to the constitution of the Protestant Episcopal church, calling for the establishment of missionary districts along racial lines, was voted down decisively by the House of Deputies at the triennial convention of that body today. The negroes have long wanted a bishop of their own, but the vote today was of such a character as to quiet any suggestions along this line that might be made in the near future. Rev. Joseph Dunn, of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, in speaking against the adoption of the amendment said:

"The emancipation of the negroes was a dire disaster, as the negro at that very time was in need of all the teachings and help that could be given to him by his white mother. They lost all of this and the church has 45 years of misguidance to undo.

"The negroes cannot grasp the idea of the church as yet. Their religion at the present time is mostly emotional, and I believe that the passage of this amendment would be fatal in regard to the negroes."

The House of Deputies passed the canon regarding missionary work, with the provision that the president of the board of missions be elected to a six year term instead of three, as at first proposed.

In the House of Bishops today, the provisions that give a clergyman party in marrying the innocent party to any divorce was repealed. The canon now holds that divorced members of the church cannot marry.

BOAT RACES AGAINST ICE.

Steamer La France Hurries From Dawson Toward White Horse.

Dawson, Alaska, Oct. 19.—The steamer La France, the last river boat to leave the year to sail from Dawson for White Horse, got away last night crowded with hundreds of passengers.
All freight for way points will be refused as the boat has a race against the ice.

Only and Stear rivers are thick with ice and large floes are running past Dawson.

AERONAUTS TELL

ica was signalling to the steamer.
"When I came on deck," said Capt.
Down, "the airship was plainly visible. In the light of the 100,000 watt looked enormous, hanging low in the northeast and close at hand. In reply to our signals she told us her name and that she was in distress and asked us to stand by."

Then the wireless was called into use, and between Capt. Down and the operator on the Trent, and Jack K.
Irwin, the operator in the life boat suspended below the gas chamber of the America, passed a series of messages that will stand in history as the first wireless communication between a ship at sea and a ship in the air.

"At this time," said Capt. Down, of the Trent, "we were in speaking distance of the America. She was only 12 feet above the forestays and moving about 12 knots an hour. We kept beneath her with great difficulty for she swung to and fro in the air currents, and some times we were forced to go full speed astern so as not to lose her."

"Then," continued Capt. Down, "the crew of the airship began trailing wire ropes. Lanson, our chief officer, grabbed one and held on until the skin was rubbed off his hands and he was lifted from his feet and nearly dragged overboard. After half an hour of this we decided that this method of rescue was hopeless and much too risky. So Wellman asked us to keep close while he and his crew let down their life boat saying he trusted to us to pick them up. We got two boats ready and stationed men along the sides with life buoys. I signalled "all ready" and Wellman lowered his airship until the life boat suspended underneath was within six feet of the water. The airship, composed of tanks of gasoline and weighing 3,000 pounds, was the great danger, and after the boat was launched this struck her and stove a hole in the side about six inches in diameter but above the water line.

"When Wellman dropped his life-boat it struck the sea broadside, but quickly righted itself. I went full speed ahead and had considerable difficulty in picking up the boat. Mr.
Wellman injured his hand in trying to catch one of our ropes."

"The last I saw of the airship she was 15 or 20 miles away with one end in the water. Her valves had been opened and she undoubtedly sank soon, dragged down by her heavy machinery."

"Wellman and his crew came aboard and after having dry clothes and a good breakfast appeared none the worse for their experience."

The Trent carried 151 first cabin passengers, most of whom had been making a pleasure trip to Bermuda. A majority of them, clad in night clothes over which overcoat and known to have been hastily thrown, watched the rescue.

Jack Irwin, the wireless operator, figures that the America sailed about 870 miles from Atlantic City to a point off Nantucket 275 miles, from Nantucket northeast about 140 miles until the storm caught her and carried her southeast to the point of rescue a distance of 455 miles.

"All through the trip," said Irwin, "we were happy as little gods. Nobody felt any fear at any time. When we quit it was because we were running out of gasoline."

The Wellman party was landed at 5:25 this evening. They went to the Waldorf-Astoria, where Wellman will spend the next few days.

The 30-foot cedar life-boat, which with its contents is all that remains of the costly experiment, which started from New York City, was taken aboard the Trent and put ashore here when the steamer docked this evening.

TROUBLE OVER HEPBURN LAW.

Greatest Content That Has Arisen From Rate Law On.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The validity of the so-called "Carmack" amendment to the Hepburn rate law of 1904 was today before the Supreme Court of the United States for argument.
This makes the matter the initial carrier of interstate commerce liable for damages occurring in transportation, not only on its own lines, but on connecting lines. The contest is probably the greatest of all the legal controversies which have arisen out of the passage of the Hepburn rate law.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad attacked the validity of this law. They claim that the requirement that the initial carrier shall issue a receipt or bill of lading for the property to be transported and be liable for any loss throughout transportation, compels one railroad company to be responsible for another company's errors and that the proviso that no contract shall exempt the initial carrier from this liability for loss on the connecting carrier, destroys or interferes with the freedom of contract.
The answer of the government to this particular argument is that of "public safety."
